

In the Social Realm

Although the past week was not a gay one, it was filled with delightful and interesting affairs. Lake parties at Salt Lake were the feature of the week, while the entertainments given in honor of the university graduates were of an unusually attractive character. The devotees of society also devoted much time to card parties, luncheons and bicycle rides.

The festivities clustering about the university commencement began Monday and wound up in a blaze of glory Thursday evening. The amusements were inaugurated Monday evening by a reception and musical given by the faculty in honor of the graduating class. The rooms were beautifully decorated in palms, plants and flowers and the evening proved most enjoyable to the participants.

Wednesday evening the annual banquet of the Alumni association was held in university hall, 200 guests being present. At its close the guests adjourned to the ballroom, where the merry-making was brought to a climax. The dancing hall was hung in flags and bunting in the university colors.

Thursday was field day. After the athletic sports on the campus, the pupils and their friends went out to Salt Lake, the evening being a fitting end to the amusements that had gone before.

Mrs. M. C. Fox was the guest of honor at a morning card party given Friday by Mrs. Hoyt Sherman and Miss Sherman at their home on the hill. Every available space in the large rooms was filled with wild flowers while the table decorations were entirely of green and red.

Since the Dr. Wolffs' engagement there has been very few theatre parties, and indeed, no opportunity for any. But upon the evening of July 1 the Hon. William J. Bryan will lecture at popular prices at the Salt Lake theatre. There is already a demand for seats by prominent society people for theatre parties. It goes without saying that the distinguished leader and statesman will be greeted by a packed house.

OGDEN SOCIETY.

Society was active last week in spite of numerous school commencements which absorbed much time and attention. Among the leading events were the reception by Mrs. C. K. Bannister and the event in honor of Mrs. Crane by Mrs. George M. Hanson. The exodus to summer resorts has begun.

Everything combined to make the reception given by Mrs. C. K. Bannister Wednesday afternoon a complete success. Even the weather was favorable and the day was an ideal one for such an event. The parlors of the Reed were decorated with a tasteful array of flowers, choice roses predominating. Pure ferns and palms were placed about the halls and alcoves. In one of the parlors Miss Louise Kimball presided at the punch bowl and, assisted by Mrs. Hams of Cheyenne, served the delicious beverages. Choice refreshments were tastefully served in room A, while at intervals during the afternoon the mandolin and guitar club and Professor Schellie rendered selections. Mrs. Bannister was assisted in receiving by Mesdames Kimball, Bigelow and Kuhn. The hours were from 2:15 and the arrivals were so timed that none of the disagreeable features often attendant on a great crowd crush were noticeable. The guests included many of the most prominent society ladies in Salt Lake and other Utah cities as well as from the surrounding states.

Some of the most elaborate and beautiful toilettes seen this season were observed there and the affair will be long remembered as a notable event in Ogden society.

MRS. HANSON INTRODUCES "62."

Mrs. George M. Hanson entertained Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Charles Crane. Features of the party were the exquisite decorations and the game of "62" which Mrs. Hanson introduced to Ogden society. The prize winners in this interesting game were Miss Nettie Wilson and Mrs. Kate B. Anderson. The rooms were tastefully decorated, a color scheme of yellow, blue and pink being carried out. The hall was decorated in yellow, the reception room in blue, while in the parlor the remaining color was pink. Punch was served and a delicious luncheon provided. The guests were Mesdames Charles Crane, D. H. Perry, Sarah E. Anderson, Kate B. Anderson, L. Reynolds, Nath Kuhn, E. M. Conroy, Abe Kuhn, Jennie Nelson, Al. HEAD IN A CELLAR.

Ghastly Discovery Made in a Rushville, Ind., Cellar.

Rushville, Ind., June 12.—The discovery of a woman's head buried in earth in the cellar of a vacant house in the center of the city has aroused intense excitement there. Two boys were in the cellar rummaging among some old barrels and boxes when they made the discovery. The head is that of a woman probably 35 or 40 years old. The flesh has decayed, leaving the skin hard and dry, and pressing tightly against the skull. There are 13 teeth, six upper and seven lower, looking as bright and natural as if their owner was alive. A mass of short, curly, blonde hair crowns the head, with bangs in front. The facial appearance gives rise to the belief that the owner of the head in fact was not dead, but had been in the cellar for some time. A long cut or incision in the skull over the right ear tells how the woman met her fate.

"Discovery" of the head has given rise to all manner of conjectures as to the woman's identity, who buried the head and how it got there. The prevailing opinion is that the woman was murdered, her body buried elsewhere, and the head buried in the cellar.

Many believe the head is that of Pearl Bryan, murdered at Fort Thomas, Ind., by Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling. This woman has been dead three or four years, while Pearl Bryan met her fate but a year ago, which explodes that theory.

"Owney" Dead at Last.

Toledo, O., June 12.—"Owney," the famous canine postal tramp, is dead at last. He was officially executed by order of Postmaster Brand, of this city.

Postmaster Brand, seeing that the dog had grown so cross that it was dangerous to harbor him, ordered the chief of police to kill him, and Owney met death within a few minutes. His skin will be mounted at the expense of the Toledo clerks, and forwarded to Washington for the official museum. The medals were sent to Albany, where his other trophies are stored.

Owney was about 17 years old, and famous canine postal tramp, is dead at last. He was officially executed by order of Postmaster Brand, of this city.

BOTH STRANGE AND TRUE.

Remarkable Fish Story That Comes in From American Falls.

Pocatello Tribune: Peter Hunt, who lives in the vicinity of American Falls, was engaged last week in trucking cattle, and as usual, making himself generally useful in town. Before coming in, he had been fishing on the ranch, and had left a fly hook in his cap. In town, as is the manner of cowboys, they got to racing ponies, and Peter had further decorated his cap with a piece of jockey ribbon, the gift of one of his admirers. It is supposed that before he recessed the bridge that night on his way home he felt overpowered with the dust and perspiration of shipping the critters. Anyhow, from whatever the cause, he felt thirsty, and descending to the river bank, he quaffed a liberal draught of the mucky, but at the present somewhat muddy Snake. The water was not too discolored, however, for a big fish to be attracted by the red ribbon, and it seems hooking itself in the cap of the astonished Pete, the hat and trout quickly disappearing over the falls.

The latter part of the story is almost as remarkable. Next morning B. Houston, who lives in the rock residence immediately below the falls, was surprised to find a three-pound trout "mixed up" in a man's cap, flapping in one of the shallow overflows of the river, and evidently so scared with its strange burden, that it had beamed itself between the rocks in a narrow pool and became an easy prey to the well known old mining prospector, taking his morning smoke and doubtless meditating on the work of the coming day. We have not heard whether the owner of the cap rising up and strangely recovered property, but the fish so providentially provided proved good eating.

The Phonograph and Religion.

Rev. S. D. Sammis, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church of South River, N. Y., is making use of the phonograph in church services. He has the instrument, repeat the Lord's prayer, hymns, scripture selections and the benediction. For this he has been subjected to some criticism. He defends himself by saying: "I cannot see that a phonograph is worse than the organ. I have used the machine to deliver reproductions of the singing of famous choirs. Now, my
